Author : admin

Since quite a time I've been enjoying the wonderful arcade game review videos, made by a psycho who calls himself James Nintendo Nerd .
This guy is reviewing all kind of ancient stuff from Atari, Nintendo, Game Boy, Sega to the some almost new computer games. His homepage is cinnemassacre.com
He has already produced a dozen of funny parody videos of some of the shittest and greatest arcade games made ever notable movies like let's say: Friday the 13th , Nightmares on Elm Street, Back to the Future, Turtles Ninja, Ghostbusters etc.

James Nintendo Nerd has obviously been in deep love with movies direction, plot writteng etc. He does a really cleverly reviews an old stories in a innovative and really funny way! Every oldschool hardcore gamer will be completely charmed by the nice gaming temper this crazy guy has developed. Watching him and his old arcade games reviews bring backs memories of the great old times when Video Games were king and enriches my daily sometimes boring life every now and then. Watching his performances guarantees you a great laugh time.
I'm gonna blog here just a few of my favourite of his videos in youtube.
Hope you'll enjoy them!
