Today we went to the Orthodox Church St. Georgi here in the town. It was really pleasant experience. Praise the Lord. His Holy Spirit filled me. Few times in the Day I felt bad spiritually but thanks to God now. I'm better now. The Priest in the Church who leaded the Liturgy wasthe one I like really, he said very pleasant things to the people encouraging them and advising them to forgive so God to forgive them.After the Liturgy I, Static and Nomen decided to go to the Chineese Restaurant and cause we were hungry, we ate. I ate and drinked a coffee. Discussed the Wonderful dream that God give to Static for which I mentioned in my previous post. After that we went toStatic's home and played on his Playstation 2 Mortal Kombat eated wafers and drunk Pepsi (Like ordinary Americans do ;]]).We played a little with his Macintosh and after that I went home.
