

Day After Day

I forgot I had German in the morning so I get to sleep at 3:00 a.m. In the morning my mother wake me up to ask my did I have lectures. I said yes in 10:00 then I remembered about the German. I tried as fast as possible to stand up wash my teeth and go to the college. After the German we had some Introduction to Management classes. One of our programmers Pesho called me and said we have a problem with few of the scripts setuped to be run on crontab on one of the servers, then also the other programmer Milen called and said he had a problem with some other script which loops one of the webservers ... having problems is really unpleasant. At least I'm not so sleepy as I should be for the small quantity of time I've slept in the night. We went to a coffee with Narf and Nomen in the lunch break after that Management again. And now I'm doing some stuff on the servers. I'm little tired now and maybe I'll sleep. Praise the Lord for I'm spiritually okay most of the time today. Thanks God :]END-----
