

Sorrow

Author : admin

It's quite common lately that I experience a deep Spiritual Sorrow. I googled around searching for answers but it seems like there is no answer. Today we the Christians celebrate "Transfiguration". The Transfiguration of Jesus Christ on the Olive mountain and his meeting with the Old testament's prophets. Lately I can't pray much and I'm starting to loose faith which is pretty bad. I still hope God would do something to change that. Tomorrow I'm thinking to go to the Office in Varna, will see what will happen there.END-----
