

The week

Author : admin

After 10 minutes I'll have Deutch lessons anyways I've caught some winter virus :)I'm having snots coughing and stuff. In Sunday I was on a Liturgy in the Church as usual. Yesterday was a quiet and peaceful day. Static came home and we installed Windows. NowI have Windows, Linux, FreeBSD on one machine. I'm surprised how well is Windows working. I'm eating a lot of garlic recently to stimulate my immune system. Yesterday I played some Warcraft III. Having Windows now gives me the opportunity to play some games which weren't working in wine. Well that's most of how my day passed. I went to see my grandma and she made me tea as always (her tea is awesome!). :)END-----
